

Please continue to consider Proceeding 01-184, as I would very much like to see wireless local number portability (WLNP) be developed in the United States. LNP is now standard for CLEC competition, and I feel that the wireless industry will have an unfair advantage over wireline CLECs if WLNP is not developed. Furthermore, my wireless telephone number is very valuable to me, and I would like to be able to take it with me should I have any problems with my current wireless provider.

Thank you for your consideration

Respectfully,

Brian Doreste
